On display at the library this April: American Propaganda, 1936 - 1943

Visit the Orlando Public Library from April 2 to July 31 for American Propaganda, 1936 – 1943: Selected Posters of the Works Project Administration. In the late 1930s, the United States faced deep economic challenges brought about by the Great Depression and the impending threat of a second world war. During this time, the Works Projects Administration, a department of the U.S. Government established by Franklin D. Roosevelt as part of the New Deal, produced over 35,000 posters related to government sponsored health, safety and tourism programs. On view are a selection of these posters which illustrate a period of significant social and political change in the United States.

The Genius of Women art exhibition continues this month at the downtown library, featuring local, national and international artists of the 2019 Women in the Arts Inc. Completion.

Art Exhibit: Harmony of Origami and Chinese Water Color

Southwest Branch, 7255 Della Drive

On Display April 6–June 30

Artists Al Aki and Patricia Steele Radovich blend the art forms of origami and Chinese water color into a harmonious and bold approach in this exhibit. Al does origami as a meditation and has performed at the grand opening of Uniqlo and Morimoto Asia in Disney Springs, EPCOT, Universal Studios and The Holy Land Experience. Patricia has been intrigued with Chinese brush painting ever since she received a set of oriental brushes as a gift from her husband. She enjoys the beauty and variety of silk and rice papers and expresses her love of nature through this unique art.
